A Closing Perspective:

Windham's population has grown at a substantial rate, which has outpaced the region, and continues to be an attractive destination for a number of reasons. Among these are:

- Location relative to large metropolitan areas in New Hampshire and Boston Massachusetts.
- Recreational and cultural activities, and close proximity to many other like attractions.
- Ease of access due to the Interstate Highway and three major State of NH transportation routes.
- Exceptional quality of the School systems.
- Business friendly town staff, employment pool, services and opportunities.

The community will continue to experience growth and will benefit from highly informed planning with a clearly communicated Vision. Governance informed by an engaged community is necessary to providing its residents and businesses the highest quality of life possible.

The WEDC was formed to assist and facilitate the process. This plan focuses on contributing impartial, informed counsel to governing boards and engaging the resident and business communities.
